Colleges to Consider

Most Selective Schools: Colleges here are among the 100 most selective colleges in America. They accept very few students with high school averages below 90 and SAT scores below 1800 and ACT below 27. Check Naviance and/or the college’s website for more information regarding average GPA and SAT/ACT accepted.

Very Selective: Many of the students at these colleges have 85 averages and SAT scores between 1650-1800 and ACT between 24-26. Check Naviance and/or the college’s website for more information regarding average GPA and SAT/ACT accepted.

Selective: Although these colleges are, in general, easier to get into than the other groups, please keep in mind, that they are, among the top 1100 colleges in the country. Many students at these colleges have SAT scores just under 1650 or just under 24 on the ACT. Check Naviance and/or the college’s website for more information regarding average GPA and SAT/ACT accepted.
